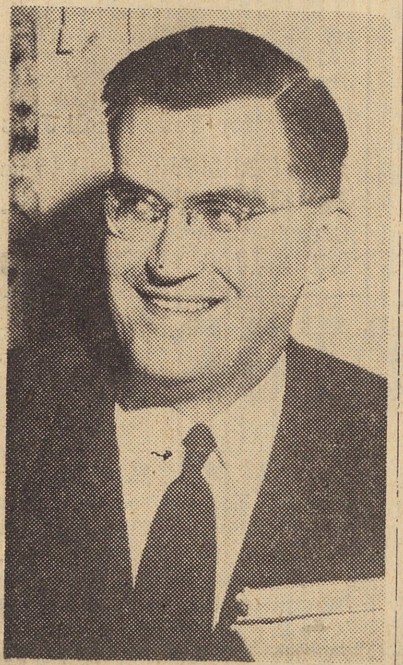
Local Pastor Leaves For East Europe Tour

The Rev. Herbert Neale, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Campbell, enplanes for New York Sunday night to join a group of distinguished men from all over the United States who are embarking on a good will mission to Eastern Europe.

He will take withhim official letters from his congregation who have appointed him their official "ambassador of good will". The letters express the hope that this Studytour will in some way bring about better understanding between nations.

Main objective of the Studytour group is to observe condtions, gather facts and draw their own conclusions, and act in the capacity of goodwill ambassadors of the United States.



REV. HERBERT NEALE
... Continental Journey

The Studytour group, composed of men representing many walks of life, including religious education, law, medicine and business, will be the first group of its kind to enter the Soviet Union. Two professors in the school of Slavic studies at the University of Pennsylvania, also members of the tour, will also act as interpreters for the group.

Rev. Neale will meet the group in New York, where they will board a plane for London, arriving there early Tuesday and remaining until Friday morning, for an orientation session. While in London, they will take a tour around Parliament and meet several Members of Parliament.

After leaving London, itinerary of the group will include three days each at Copenhagen, Stockholm and Helsinki. At Helsinki, Rev. Neale and the Rev. Myron Herrell of the First Methodist Church at Burlingame, will attend the Swedish Methodist conference. Rev. Neale and Rev. Herrell were named delegates to the conference at the recent California-Nevada Methodist conference.

After leaving Helsinki, the group will enter Russia, where they will spend 28 days visiting such places as Leningrad, Stalingrad, Moscow, Kiev, Rostov, and Yalta. A two-day boat trip across the Black Sea will take them from Yalta to Odessa, where they will spend three days.

Prague, Warsaw, and Bucharest for three days each, will be the next step in their journey and from there to Berlin for one week, where they will divide their time between the Eastern and Western sectors.

The last lap of their tour will include Frankfurt, Brussels and Amsterdam and then Paris for five days, before taking a plane for New York, where they expect to land September 1.

Rev. Neale will spend several days on Long Island before returning to Campbell. He will visit his brother, the Rev. Latimer B. Neale, who is also a Methodist minister on Long Island.

Rev. Neale said he will report to the Campbell Press from time to time, during the course of the Studytour.

On The Line in Campbell

George Bumb, owner and operator of the West Valley Disposal Grounds on the Los Gatos Creek off the San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Campbell and Hamilton avenues, reports his business is now in full operation. The cover and fill operation, which has met all requirements laid down by the city and county, is especially beamed for the "do-it-yourself" home owners who need a location in which to dispose of the debris and rubbish from their yards. No garbage will be accepted at the grounds. Local home owners who have hauled their debris for miles previously claim the disposal area fills a long-felt need for Campbell area residents.

Milton C. Thiehoff,. 79, of 164 Railway Ave., was struck by a car last Thursday afternoon while in the crosswalk at Campbell and Harrisan avenues. He was taken to the County Hospital with fractured vertabrae. The driver of the car was Earl A. Brown, 26, of 98 Railway Ave.

Campbell's Fire Department under the direction of Fire Chief Jack Scott and assisted by 10 volunteers extinguished a blaze in a shed at the rear of a dwelling at 74 Railway Saturday night. The shed is owned by Mrs. George W. Sharpe and the cause of the fire was undetermined.

Approximately $100 damage was done. The alarm was turned in at 10:45 p.m. and was answered by two pieces of equipment which were able to return to the fire house by 11:20 p.m. Chief Scott complimented the volunteers for their rapid turnout.

Bids for the construction of the new Sherman Oaks School on Fruitdate Ave., will be opened by trustees of the Campbell Union Elementary District at their June 28 meeting at 8 p.m. The school, near Sherman Oaks Ave., will have 10 classrooms, multipurpose room and administrative wing and is scheduled to open next Jaunary.

Chief of Police Robert Locke and his family were pretty disgusted this week over the damage done to their brand new car last Sunday afternoon by a careless motorcycle rider who slammed into it. This mishap spoiled the Sunday ride that Bob, Mrs. Locke and their five children were enjoying. The car only had 88 miles on it at the time of accident. Fortunately no one was injured but the new car (the first new one Bob claims he ever had in his life) had to have a fender replaced.

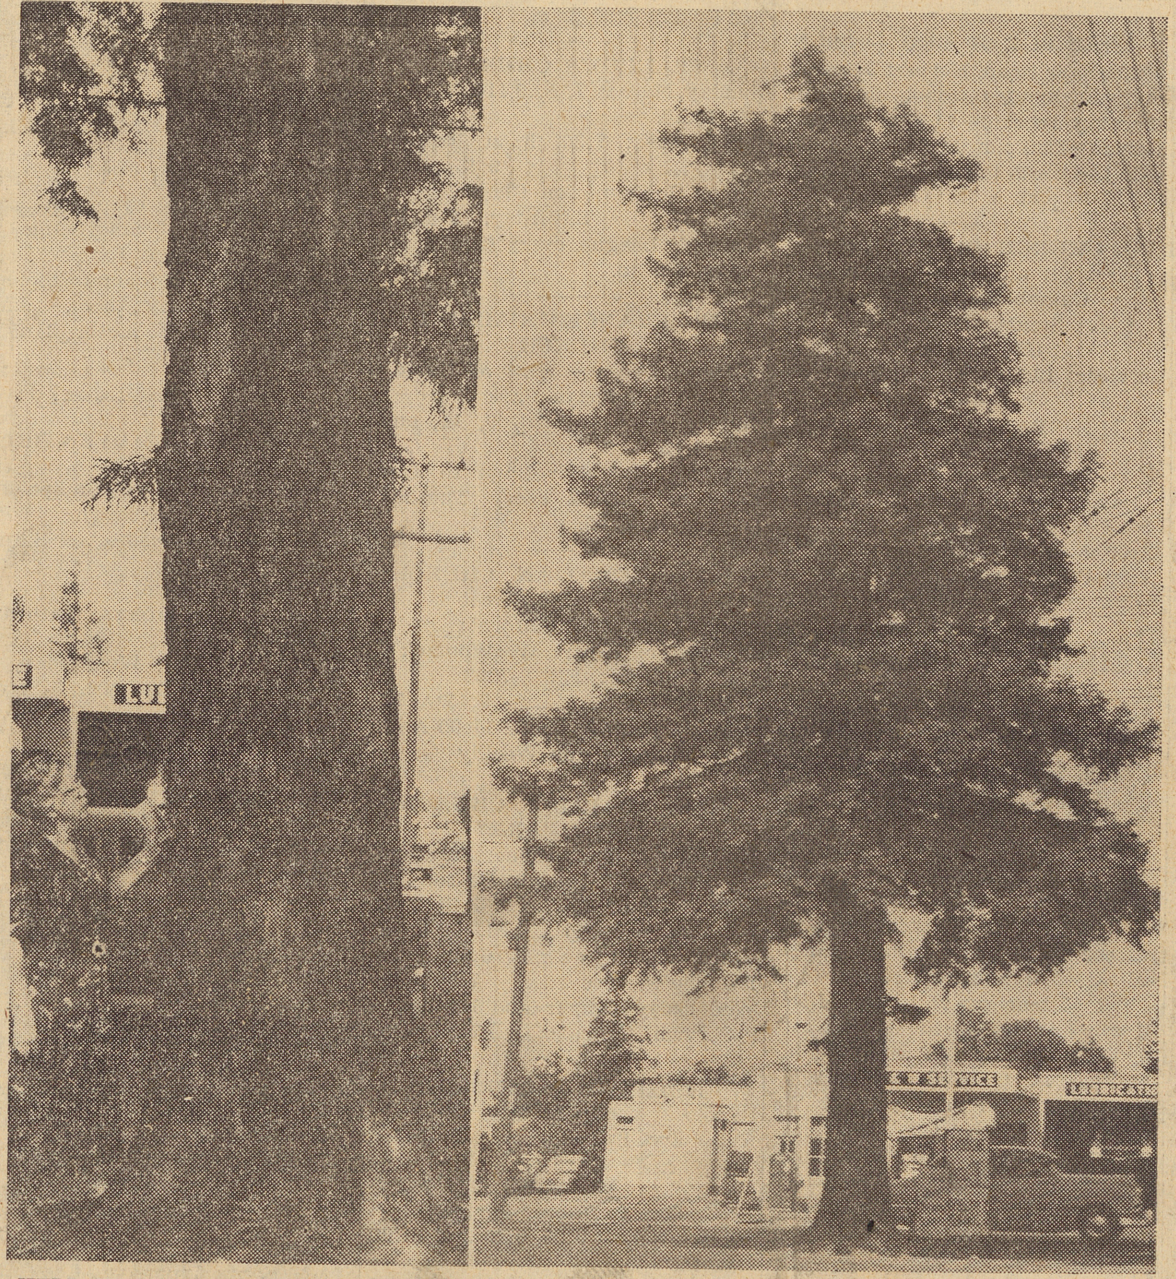
Hector Cordova, Campbell High's representative at Boys State in session in Sacramento, was elected supervisor in a mythical county in the American Legion sponsored project. About 800 high school students took part in the sessions.

Superintendent William C. Henley, Business Manager C. E. Bradley, of the Campbell Union Elementary District, are in Sacramento today appearing before the State Allocations Board. The two local school officials are requesting funds for the new Parkway School which will be built at the end of Forrest Ave. off Saratoga Ave.



WILL IT HAVE TO GO? . . . Mrs. Alice Joy Keith, a graduate of the Campbell High School, class of 1903, gazes affectionately at the "Roosevelt Redwood" at the Winchester Road and Campbell Ave. She was present when President Theodore Roosevelt planted the tree in 1903 and has carefully watched its growth in the subsequent 53 years. Not only does the tree face eventual removal because of the necessity of widening Winchester Road but Mrs. Keith fears that its present macadam "garden" on which it stands cannot offer the proper nourishment needed for such a youthful (as far as trees go) and sturdy redwood.—Campbell Press photo.

Tree's Future Worries Residents

Campbell's one physical link with the White house, the "Roosevelt Redwood", having withstood a half-century of buffetting by the elements, now faces extinction from another source. Human progress.

No one forsaw that day in May, 1903, when President Theodore Roosevelt personally wielded the shovel, that the high school yard in which the little tree was planted would some day be a parking lot of a service station. Or that the station itself must someday be eliminated in face of the ever-growing need for wider streets to accommodate the ever-increasing traffic.

Towering above the onrushing traffic, Campbell's 50-year landmark standing today in its "blacktop" garden even now presents a worry for those who have affectionally watched its growth through the years. They are agraid the tree may die on its own accord because of lack of nourishment.

"Blacktop", they claim, doesn't seem to offer very much in food material even for a tree.

Loyal Supporter

One of the tree's most loyal supporters through the years has been Mrs. Alice Joy Keith, a member of the Campbell High School graduating class of 1903 and an enthusiastic member of the audience that watched Teddy handle the shovel on that memorable day in May (for Campbell) 1903.

Mrs. Keith, who after long-time service as a teacher, and an outstanding mathematician, was employed more than 19 years ago (after her retirement as a teacher) by the U. S. Navy in San Diego. She is a mathematician in the Navy's electronic lab and returned last week, as she has done every year, to spend her vacation in her girlhood home at 370 W. Rincon.

From time to time there have been rumors started that the tree which now stands lonely but majestically in the parking lot of the Shell Service Station at the corner of Winchester and Campbell was not the same tree that Teddy planted 53 years ago. Mrs. Keith, along with many other long-time residents of the community, is righteously indignant at such stories.

Plaque at Tree

The Junior Chamber of Commerce a few years ago placed a bronze plaque at the foot of the tree memorializing the fact that President Theodore Roosevelt planted it. But even in face of that, rumors continue to persist that the Roosevelt tree died and was replaced by the one that aloofly looks down today on the gas-burning buggies that tear up and down the streets.

Some of the loyal tree fans claim that the rumor is but part of an insidious plan which will make the eventual passing of the tree that much less controversial.

"From 1903 until 1930," Mrs. Keith reports, "I spent some time each summer at home at 370 West Rincon. Walking daily to and from town or riding my bicycle, I would pause at the Redwood and note its growth,—when it reached my shoulder,—when it equaled my height,—when its top got beyond my reach etc. It was a sturdy little tree, all those years. I'm certain from my own observation that this is the veritable tree Teddy Roosevelt planted."

Mrs. Keith recalls the big day when the President of the United States visited Campbell and the tree-planting ceremony took place.

Quite a Planting

"I remember how he really planted it," she says, "Some celebrities when asked to plant a tree, toss on a symbolic shovelfull of earth and leave others to finsh. Not so, Theodore Roosevelt. He was a woodsman. First he enlarged the prepared hole a little. And I remember how sturdily he shoveled, and how he went round and round the tree and had to be asked to pause for the photograph, and how carefully he tramped the earth in place around the little trunk. No half-way work for Teddy!! The tree throve from then on."

Another memorial tree in Campbell also has quite a history. Mrs. Keith also knows the background of that, the pine in the patio of the What-Not Gift Shop which the alumni of Campbell High planted in 1913 to the memory of their first principal, J. Fred Smith. This tree had an early misadventure which Mrs. Keith believes gave rise to false rumors about Teddy's Redwood.

But that's another story, as Mrs. Keith says, and right now she and others who recall the history of Campbell's landmark, are worried about the future of the Roosevelt Redwood.

Most observers feel that the tree has "had it" and must now give way to progress.

Sentiment, they say, can become a traffic hazard. Even if there is a fence around it.—G. V.

Recreation Program Starts Monday

Youngsters and adults alike of the Campbell Union High School District will have an opportunity to take part in the full-fledged summer recreation program at the various schools in the district. The program gets under way Monday, June 25, although the swimming phase was launched on Monday of this week.

Adults, for the most part, will have to limit their recreational activities to the swimming end of it but a complete program is planned in crafts and organized play for the kids at almost all the schools, Ken Robison, district recreation director reports.

Robison said that a full quota of 2400 youngsters have registered for swimming lessons at the high school pool and no more space is available. The high school pool will be open seven days each week for recreational swimming for the public from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Lessons will be given Monday through Friday in the mornings. Adult lessons will be offered on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. The pool will also be open to the general public on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:30 to 9:30. Life saving classes will begin on June 30 at 9 a.m. In addition, ballet swimming classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30.

Playgrounds in the district will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and two or more leaders will be in charge at the 15 schools that will be in the program. The morning program includes athletic and field events and active games while the afternoon activities consist of music,

County Operates Dog Vaccination Clinic on Monday

Santa Clara County's first anti-rabies vaccination clinic will be held next Monday, June 25, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., the Santa Clara County Health Department announced this week.

The clinic location is the Santa Clara County Health Department, 2220 Moorpark Ave., San Jose.

Dogs should be brought to the clinic wearing a collar and will not be vaccinated unless they are on a leash or otherwise restrained.

Dog-owners of the unincorporated areas of the county are reminded by W. Elwyn Turner, M. D., director of Public Health, that by ordinance all dogs must be vaccinated against rabies before a dog license will be issued. This ordinance requiring anti-rabies vaccination of all dogs was enacted primarily to protect dogs from the threat of rabies and to avoid the possibility of humans becoming affected with this disease.

The Campbell City Council, acting upon the recommendation of Dr. Turner, is in the process of adopting a similar ordinance which would require anti-rabies vaccination of all dogs in the city before they are licensed. The ordinance will probably be adopted at the July 2 meeting of the City Council.

It is contemplated that similar anti-rabies vaccination clinics to the one next Monday will be opened throughout the county. It is expected that one will be set up in Campbell to serve the city as well as the adjacent county area.

At these clinics residents will be able to obtain both the vaccination and a license since the collection of fees and the issuing of dog licenses has been transferred in the county from the tax collector to the health department.

Respite for Planners

One of the briefest agendas on record is listed for for the meeting of the Campbell Planning Commission tonight at the Country Woman's Club auditorium.

Most of the hearings that are to face the planners on various zoning problems are scheduled for their next meeting.

Subject to controversial questions at almost every meeting, the respite from such goings-on for at least one meeting is probably a welcome relief for the commission.

Campbell May Adopt Sales Tax This Fall

In all probability Campbell will soon have a sales tax.

The one-cent levy, which is expected to raise $47,000 per year for the city, will probably become effective on October 1, if the present plans of the City Council are carried out.

This was indicated Monday night when Councilman Myron L. Fairchild, chairman of the finance and license committee for the City Council, recommended that the tax be adopted.

The City Council is to meet with the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, June 28, when the necessity for the sales tax will be further explained. It is also planned to have a public meeting to acquaint local residents and business people with the reasons for the one-cent levy.

Fairchild, who heads the finance committee composed of Councilmen Richard Morton and Jim Arends, told his fellow councilmen that with the sales tax it would be possible to pay off a million dollar bond issue for major improvements over a period of 20 years.

Major Improvements

He cited the need for an improved street program which is estimated will cost $544,000, storm sewers at $453,000, a new fire house and corporation yard as some of the projects that the city must undertake. He said the sales tax would also supplement the revolving fund and provide for additional police protection.

"In the face of the continued expansion of the city, the sales tax provides the only means that revenue can be raised without an exorbitant property tax," the councilman said.

Under the tentative proposal as outlined by Fairchild the city would set up its own collection system. Experience of other cities in the county, that now have a sales tax indicates, he said, that the cost of collection varies to some extent but that it is estimated that the local collection would not exceed one per cent.

San Jose, Sunnyvale, Los Gatos and Gilroy all have sales taxes. Under the new state law, a county-wide uniform sales tax for both unincorporated and incorporated areas could be set up with the state acting as the collecting agency. However, the stickler in the law is, that the county supervisors must first set up the machinery for this operation.

The Santa Clara County Supervisors have refused to act until the cities agree to give the county a 25 per cent cut from the revenue that will be collected in the various cities. The cities have rejected such thinking and are adopting their own sales tax program.

If all the details of the program can be worked out, it is expected that the plan will go into effect for the last quarter of this year, starting October 1.

ROUTE 5 GETS TOP PRIORITY

Completion of the Oakland-Santa Cruz Freeway (Route 5) which skirts through Campbell will have equal priority in tate highway construction in Santa Clara County with the Bayshore, if the recommendation of county, city and chamber of commerce officials is carried out by the state.

This was indicated Wednesday when at a meeting of state highway officials, city and county officials and representatives of the various chambers, an overwhelmingly majority voted to recommend to the state Chamber of Commerce that Route 5 was equally as important as the Bayshore Highway.

Representatives from the cities in the northern part of the county favored the Bayshore project over Route 5. Representing Campbell at the meeting were Mayor John M. Chargin, Chamber of Commerce Manager Sam Cava and LeRoy

SERGEANT . . . John Morgan, patrolman in the Campbell Police Department since April 1, 1955, has been appointed sergeant as a result of a competitive examination conducted for the position. A former resident of Canton, Ohio, where he attended Kent State University for three years, Sergeant Morgan came to Campbell from the Mountain View Police Department. He served in the U. S. Navy for four years is married and with his wife and two children, Connie, 2, and John, 6, lives at 4364 Belvedere Ave., San Jose. He is 25 years of age.

Varied Agenda Features Council Meeting

City Council members touched the bases on a wide variety of subjects at their meeting Monday night when they swung from new annexations to dog vaccinations, from fireworks to fire zones and from house numbering to house moving. With the other lesser items on the agenda the City Dads were kept in session until almost midnight before they were able to call it a day.

Annexation

Three annexation problems faced the Councilmen: (1) They learned from Joseph Bonacina, city attorney and Mark Thomas, city engineer, that there were 13 registered voters in one area (57 acres) that was seeking to join Campbell. This disqualified it as "uninhabited territory" and would necessitate an election. However, it was decided to have the annexation petition resubmitted at the next meeting, eliminating part of the area and some of the voters.

2. A hearing date was set for July 30 on the annexation petition of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barbano, owners of property at the intersection of San Jose- Los Gatos Road and Campbell Ave. which they want to become part of Campbell. The Double AA Market and Ken Roberts Union Oil service station are located on this property.

3. Agreed to the request of the City Title Insurance Co., for a letter stating that the city would be willing to accept a 10½-acre parcel on Winchester Road opposite the Campbell Lumber Co. The section is now known as the Tatsuko property and is sewered and engineered and set to go in 6000 square foot lots.

Dog Vaccination

The Council authorized the city attorney to draft an emergency ordinance amendment by the next meeting (July 2) which would require vaccination of all dogs before licensing. Dr. M. Elwyn Turner, county and city health officers, by letter told the Council that a public health emergency exists because the county is classified as a rabies area. The health officer reported that dog vaccination clincs would be set up and a charge of $1.50 would be levied.

Fireworks Approved

The City Council granted the application of Paul Knoll to sell fireworks at the intersection of Hamilton Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road. At a previous meeting the Council had denied the application because the cherry stand now on the location had not met the city requirements. However, the operators since their turn down had satisfied the restrictions set down and the Council approved the application the second time around.

Fire Zones

Acting on the recommendation of Jack Scott, fire chief, and W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, the Council established fire zones for the entire City of Campbell as required under the building code.

House Numbers

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, told the Council, that as a result of a conference with county officials, he felt certain that the county would adopt the city's house numbering system in all conty territory within the Campbell postal district.

The City Fathers also approved the request of Frank Paris to move a house from 346 Woodside, San Jose, to 1245 Lovell, provided the housemovers would meet the requirements specified by the chief of police and traffic engineer.

Other Actions

In other actions the councilmen

1..Set July 2 as the public hearing date for the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burda from the decision of the Planning Commission denying the application for a change in zone from residential to light industrial for their property at 50 Mission Way occupied by the Campbell Hatchery. Paul T. Gallagher San Jose attorney, informed the Council by letter that the Burdas were appealing the decision.

2. Were notified that fines in the city amounted to $1457.50 in May and received $1600.00 from Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Blue who had purchased the house owned by the city at Hamilton and Winchester and will be moved from the location.

3. Set July 16 as the hearing date for a zone change on Winchester Road and also for a zone change in the Sunberry Gardens.

4. Approved the request of Chief of Police Robert Locke to be absent from the city on vacation from June 24 to July 1 and authorized the chief to employ vacation reilef.

5. Authorized the city attorney to contact the contractor of the Campbell Shopping Center (Lee Bros. Mkt. and Campbell Drugs) for compliance on the necessary changes in the parking lot at that location.

6. Heard a report from the city attorney that he had met with the First Congregational Church officers and their attorney, Bruce Allen, on the lease-purchase arrangements for the church building between the church and the city. The Council agreed with city attorney that the church building should be officially appraised for the record and authorized Louis A. Cavala, newly appointed city appraiser to do the job before the next meeting. Cavala with Claire Wilson, the other city appraiser, were also authorized to appraise the properties on Hamilton Ave. that will be affected by the widening project.

Local Kiwanians Attend S.F Confab

Several Campbell Kiwanis members and their wives spent last Tuesday in San Francisco, attending the International Kiwanis convention where 14,000 Kiwanians from the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Alaska have gathered.

Norm Corvello, president of the Campbell group, along with his wife, are spending the week at the convention. Norm and the vice president, Oliver Jensen, are delegates to the confab.

The Campbell group held their regular meeting in San Francisco last Tuesday, after attending several session of the convention during the day. Among local members at the meet were besides Corvello, Messrs. and Mmes. Herb Shadle, Lowell Benson, Henry Jewell, Ray Mathis, Howard Atkinson, Oliver Jensen, Lloyd Nelson, Ethan Lanphear, Dave Sanders, Joe Gomes, Fred Jones, Rex Jeffers, Merle Dodd and Jack Fischer.

A group of Campbell members are also attending the convention today to hear John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, address the group.

When the club holds their meeting in Campbell next Tuesday, they will hear Lawrence Gray, area insurance adjuster, tell them of some unusual adjustments. Ted Stivers will be chairman of the meet.

Guest at the A. M. Conley home on Kenneth Ave. is Mrs. Dora Vogt of Omaha, Nebraska, sister of Mrs. Conley. Mrs. Vogt arrived Tuesday night. Mrs. Vogt's son, Paul Jones of Sunnyoaks Ave., drove out to Omaha for his mother. While in Omaha, Paul picked up his mother-in-law, Mrs. Augusta Wilson, who will visit the Jones family.

Courtesy Helps In Keeping Laws

The California Highway Patrol believes that courteous drivers obey the law.

"This belief is sustained by the fact that most of our traffic laws are based on courtesy and violations are usually discourteous actions," says Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Many times the traffic law violator interferes with other drivers by cutting in and out of traffic, grabbing the right-of-way and racing through stop signs and traffic signals.

Other discourteous acts include failure to signal intentions to turn or stop, following too closely, and failure to dim lights at night," Caldwell continued. "With the Patrol issuing about 65,000 traffic citations each month, it appears there are far too many discourteous drivers in California. Today's traffic calls for a lot more courtesy demonstrated through obedience to the traffic laws."

The man is dishonest who knows how to accept a favor but does not know how to return it.

Campbell Is Home To 11 of 45 New Teachers Hired

Of the 45 new teachers who will take their classroom places in the Campbell Elementary School District when school starts on September 17, 11 of them have Campbell as their home addresses.

The 45 teachers will succeed the 31 who are leaving the district this year and absorb the several hundred new students who will be added to the 5375 in classes at the close of the school year last week. Of the new teachers, 27 of them are graduates of San Jose State College and 30 of the 45 are married.

Another interesting sidelight on the new teachers employed, the school district superintendent's office reports, is that six of the 45 new teachers have three or more children.

Among the Campbell area teachers who will take their places on the faculties of the local elementary schools next fall are, David Farley, Marilyn Dale, Jacqueline Grunsky, Beverly Houghton, Mary Ann Hughes, Earla Jacobsen, Joyce Klassen, Gloria Saia, Roberta Smith, Kiyo Tanaka, Eva Weymouth.

Other new teachers are, Charles Allred, San Jose; Max I. Rotary Club Hears Talk on Agnews

Removing the stigma and misunderstanding surrounding mental illness, one of the aims of the Agnew Rehabilitation Committee, was discussed at the Rotary Club meeting last Monday, by Charles Cole, chairman of that group.

Cole outlined the history of Agnews State Hospital from its establishment in 1885 and admission of the first patients in 1888, until the present time when the patient population is 4500, with 1200 employees.

The rehabilitation committee, composed of community employers, employers' associations, union representatives and social agencies in the Santa Clara Valley, acts as a bridge between the hospital and the patient's adjustment to the community.

Their goal is educating the public and employers to consider a former psychiatric patient on his own merits and potentialities, and not to reject him because he admits to having once been mentally ill. The stigma attached to mental illness destroys the person's chances of reintegration into the community.

Len Baptist, chairman of the day, introduced the speaker.

Rotary Club and Quito Kiwanis Club will meet for a baseball game in the high school athletic field at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Local School District Continues Torrid Building Pace During Summer

Campbell Elementary School District's accelerated building program will continue at a brisk pace throughout the summer months, according to Superintendent William C. Henley and C. E. Bradley, business manager.

School building construction of the past several months, projects under way at the present time and those scheduled for the near future all add up to one of the fastest growing school district expansion programs under way in California.

Biggest single construction project and one that is expected to get under way shortly after July 5, is the building of a new Sherman Oaks School on Fruitdale Avenue. Plans call for eight classrooms, two kindergartens, a multi-purpose room and administration unit. Construction will be of concrete block for beauty, versatility, economy of construction and efficiency. Completion is scheduled for January of 1957.

Remaining on the construction program is erection of three classrooms at Cherry Lane School for instruction of exceptional children. The work, to cost $86,777, will be completed by December.

Two classrooms will be built at Quito School as part of the district's program for education of children with sight difficulties. Also due for completion in December, this project will cost $50,691.

Significant over the long term is acquisition of four school sites. That for Sherman Oaks School will cost the district $100,675, with title coming to the District next month.

The site for a new school on Blackford Lane will cost $102,700, again with title coming to the district next month. The remaining site, for a new school on Cypress avenue, will cost $65,650, and title will be gained next month. No committments have been made for school building on the latter three sites.

Trustees have given the name Parkway School for the district's 12th educational facility on Saratoga-Santa Clara Road, where a 17-acre site will be used for construction of a new $500,000 school by September of 1957 if plans can be carried out on schedule. Provided will be eight classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a multi-purpose room and administrative unit.

Already completed this year have been three additions to schools: eight classrooms and a cafeteria at Dover School costing $189,345.00; four classrooms and a kindergarten at Cypress School costing $98,598. 57, and five classrooms and a kindergarten at Quito School costing $110,717.33.

A total of 11 projects to be completed before the end of this calendar year, seven of them involving costruction of new facilities, will materially better the position of the district to meet demands for space from increasing enrollments.

Due for completion and use by September is addition of eight new classrooms, a shop and a homemaking unit, at Monroe School. The work will cost $218,501.34, and enable the school to offer seventh grade instruction for the first time.

Also scheduled for completion in September is construction of three portable classrooms at Hamilton School to cost $59,767.75; two portables at Dover School, costing $40,689, and three portables at Cypress School to cost $57,808.

(The $110,217 cost of eight portable rooms will "fill in" at crowded schools until permanent facilities can be erected and afford the district an opportunity to move them at will to meet emergency growth conditions when their original school location no longer needs them. Each offers standard classroom facilities and meet State requirements for safety and education needs.)

District School Officials Study Biggest Budget

Campbell Elementary School District's budget for the 1956-57 school year will be the largest in its history, a record breaking $2,012,388. For the current school year, the budget was $1,736,000, according to Dist. Supt. William C. Henley.

Primary reason for the gain in budget totals comes from increased pay for teachers and classified personnel, higher operational costs and just about more of everything from pencils to school buildings.

The "more of everything" reflects right back on the fact that average daily attendance in the district this year was 4,940 pupils—and next year this figure is expected to rise to 5,590, at a conservative guess. That means more teachers must be hired, more schools placed in operation, more classrooms operated, more children given bus transportation, and more supplies to be bought.

The budget itself, a book more than an inch thick, includes $81,000 to repay State school building loans, $100,000 for required reserves, and about 75 per cent of its totals is reflected in instructional costs—teacher salaries and instruction materials.

Dollar and cents figures are confusing, but percentages give a reliable picture of how the money is being spent. About 4 per cent goes for administration expense, 9 per cent for operation of school facilities and another 3 per cent for their maintenance (custodians, grounds, painting, etc.).

Transportation, a big item in itself, takes about 3 per cent of the budget's income dollar, and another 5 per cent goes for capital expenditures (playground surfaces, fences, general plant improvements for health, safety and efficiency), while 1½ per cent goes for insurance and retirement costs, and an equal amount for health services. Less than 1 per cent goes for community services, it takes only .7 of a per cent for food service supervision, and one half of a per cent for tuition costs paid to other districts.

On the income side, the State contributes two sums, $917,000 and $118,000 at different times for average daily attendance, another $24,000 for education of physically handicapped pupils, and $15,000 toward cost of transportation.

Local tax monies provide about $595,000 for education (less than half the State's contribution). Other taxes sources provide about $17,000 for recreation.

Public hearing on the budget will be held in August.

THE DOOMED TREE

On the front page of this issue, The Press publishes a picture of a half-century landmark, the Roosevelt Redwood, at the intersection of Campbell Ave. and Winchester Road.

For more than 53 years the tree has stood in that one location, although its surroundings are far different today than they were in May, 1903, when President Theodore Roosevelt wielded the shovel that made history for Campbell.

When Teddy came to town, the high school was located on the corner which is now occupied by Vince's Super Market and the Shell service station.

The high school is now across the street and the tree stands alone in the black-topped parking lot of the service station. How it still manages to gain its nourishment and keep alive is something that is a minor miracle to our layman's point of view.

We know that any tree we ever planted seems to have a heck of a time staying alive in our back yard without any macadam around it. Many of our trees have still died despite our loving care.

But Teddy's tree seems to thrive without any care. We don't even know how water can get to it, as it stands there on its blacktop base. Maybe the tree would be more vigorous with more care, but it still looks pretty good to our eyes.

We are no authority on how long trees can survive on what appears to be love alone. Perhaps it could go on like that for years after we have passed out of the picture. Then again it could die tomorrow.

But there is another factor that enters the picture and this one we can foresee without any trouble. The eventual widening of Winchester Road means that the tree will be right in the way. Period.

It will have to make way for what some people term progress. Others term it by different names.

We have been racking our brain to come up with a solution of the problem that would still keep a half-century tradition, but at the same would not act as a road-block.

Someone has said, maybe it was us, that sentiment and tradition at their best or worst have tough rows to hoe in this modern age.

Fencing this particular tradition and making the street go around it could be one solution.

The only trouble would be in that case, however. that some motorists would try to go right through it.

But maybe it would be worth it at that.

ROUTE 5 GETS PUSH

We are pleased that the Route 5 Freeway was given equal priority with the Bayshore Freeway by city and county officials at a meeting this week.

Route 5 has a direct bearing on Campbell's future.

As most of us know, this freeway will cut through town and will alleviate much of the heavy traffic now carried by San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Winchester Road.

Not only will the completion of this freeway help the traffic situation in this area, but it will make possible better planning for the town itself in the future.

We often hear "when Route 5 comes through," but the "when" acts as a deterring factor in many cases for the development of certain areas.

We commend Mayor John Chargin and other representatives of the city who joined with representatives from the county to push for Route 5.

Selfishly we feel that it will mean a great deal to Campbell.

We sincerely hope that the recommendation made this week by Santa Clara County people will be carried out by state officials.

The completion of this freeway cannot come too soon to suit the people of this area.

OUT on the LIMB

George Vierhus

Subdivisions have made quite a mark in the landscape of the world-famous Santa Clara Valley but it is still noted for its production of prunes, cherries and other fruit.

We suppose that sooner than we want to contemplate the "prune belt" will have worn out its usefulness as a way to describe this fertile valley and will be replaced by some other decriptive term more in keeping with the rows of houses that have sprung up in the orchards.

Not that we want to stand in the way of progress but we are a wee bit sorry that no longer will we have a belt of some sort around our middle.

Some person a number of years ago, according to the minutes of the Chamber of Commerce, when the community boosters were hunting around for a trademark for the town suggested that as long as this was known as the "prune belt", Campbell should be the "buckle to the prune belt".

Despite the considerable merit of such a suggestion we are sorry to report that it was not adopted.

—o—

Norm Sebert, head pressman in our backshop, came back from the bank last pay day considerably shaken.

He said he was in line behind a Mexican National who was explaining, through an interpreter, to the gal at the window that he wanted to send some dough to Mexico.

Thinking that the transaction would only involve a few pesos, both Norm and the teller were taken aback when the Mexican pulled out a wad of bills and laid them down.

Wide-eyed and open-mouthed the teller proceeded to count out $4000 in greenbacks.

Norm said that his paycheck, which he presented for deposit a few minutes later, looked woefully weak in comparison to the transaction handled for our neighbor from south of the border.

—o—

We made the acquaintance this week of Mrs. Alice Joy Keith, a graduate of Campbell Union High School class of 1903.

She was present in May, 1903, when President Theodore Roosevelt planted the Redwood tree located at the intersection of Campbell Ave., and Winchester Roads.

When President Roosevelt planted the tree it was on what was then the high school grounds.

The tree stands majestically, although somewhat forlornly, today in the parking space at the Shell service station on the corner. The high school moved across the street many years ago.

There is a plaque at the foot of the tree, put there by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, explaining that President Roosevelt, Theodore, that is, planted the tree.

Despite its macadam surroundings the tree proudly towers above the station and rather aloofly looks down on the ever-changing scene below it.

And that is what worries Mrs. Keith.

Eevery one seems to feel certain that Winchester Road will have to be widened eventually. That means that either the road will have to go through, over, under or around the tree.

Or the tree will have to go.

Mrs. Keith, naturally, has quite a sentimental attachment to the Redwood, inasmuch as some 53 years ago she saw it planted by the hands of a president of the United States and she has watched its growth very carefully throughout the ensuing years.

She is quite incensed also over the rumor that started some years ago which claimed that the Roosevelt tree died and the tree that is honored today is actually a different one than the one Teddy carefully placed in the ground.

Mrs. Keith, who is employed by the Navy in San Diego, lived for years at her family home 370 W. Rincon and that is where she is staying now on her vacation.

Each time she returns she checks on the tree.

We prevailed on her this time to be photographed by the tree.

The city now is working up a "plan-line" for Winchester but the actual widening is still just a gleam in the eyes of the engineers. But it is a pretty safe bet that the street will eventually take in the tree.

We shudder to think what that means.

Tradition and sentiment may have to go out the window in the face of the necessity of eliminating any traffic hazard which as sacrilegious as it may seem, we are afraid the tree will be termed.

Former Mayor Dick Morton decribed a similar widening problem on Hamitlon Ave., as an "unfortunate by-product of progress".

LAW IN ACTION

ARREST

Our system of laws would go to pieces unless most people, most of the time, obeyed most of our laws.

"Reasonteaches," John Locke said, "that since all men are free and equal, no one should harm another of his life, health, or possession.

But a few people do harm others, sometimes by force, sometimes by craft and stealth. We have to take such people out of play by "arrest" until the "umpire" (our courts) decide what to do with them.

The law allows a peace officer or sometimes even a private citizen to "arrest" an accused without a warrant.

An officer cannot rush in and swear out a warrant to "put the arm on" a careening drunk driver. Nor a robber holding up a store. He has to act at once.

Hence the law allows arrests without a warrant when the officer has reasonable cause to believe that a certain person has done a crime, or is trying to do one.

Suppose as a private person you should ever arrest anybody. Then be sure that a crime has in fact been done, and you have good reason to think that a certain person did it. (And don't arrest him on somebody else's mere say-so). Afterwards see that he gets before a magistrate right away where he can be properly arraigned and informed of his rights. A short delay may open you to a damage suit for false imprisonment.

In the past, people had to be prevented from using the power to arrest to thwart the law. In old England, for example, to see that courts were not interfered with, no one could arrest lawyers traveling on circuit from one court to another, the parties to a law suit, and witnesses. Clergymen performing divine services could not be arrested.

But these privileges, and that of sanctuary, where an accused could take refuge from arrest in a church, are now gone.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

Bradley Conducts College Course

C. E. (Brad) Bradley, business manager of the Campbell Union School District, turned professor recently when with Dr. Russell Kent of Stanford University, he conducted a course in business administration and school districts at New Mexico A & M College at at Las Crucas, New Mexico.

The course was a workshop type and was attended by 38 school superintendents, business managers and their assistants and was for one week. After the sessions Bradley managed to make a short trip into Mexico for sightseeing and shopping in Juarez. He also attended a Kiwanis "make-up" meeting and a Masonic Lodge meeting at Las Crucas.

He reports that when he boarded the plane at Phoenix the temperature was 107 degrees considerable contrast to the 62 degree temperature in San Francisco where he landed two hours and 40 minutes later.

Growth Pattern of Last Ten Years Continues in Local School System

Continuing the pattern of ever increasing enrollments within the district for the past 10 years, this year found classrooms in the Campbell Union School District reaching a new high of 5,383 students during the week of May 23, Dist. Supt. William C. Henley reports.

Reviewing the enrollment situation of the past nine months, it was found that on opening day of the current school year, there were 4,899 youngsters in class. By October 31, the average daily attendance had climbed to 5,132, and as school closes, the number rides along at 5,374.

Typical of the everchanging picture on numbers of pupils in class Henley pointed out that only last March 31, there were 5,354 youngsters attending school, a figure that climbed 20 persons in two months—or almost the equivalent of a small class.

"With constant growth before us all the time, it is at best a difficult task to look ahead a full year to determine how many youngsters will be in school. Yet this must be done for there are classrooms to provide, teachers to hire, supplies to obtain and books to order, transportation to figure out and a multitude of other questions that must be answered with some degree of finality if we are to do our planning correctly," he said.

"One of the factors we must keep in constant touch with is the number of new homes under construction in our district. These homes, when built, will house new families—and new children who must be provided with an education. Currently there are 844 homes under construction within the district.

"It is significant to note that on March 31 there were 834 homes under construction within the same area—indicating a steady continuation of the high level of building activity", he pointed out.

Looking ahead into next Fall and 1957, Henly said, "At the moment it looks as if our enrollment next school year will hit 6,179, based on conservative estimates.

"It is interesting, too, to note that we forsee a first grade enrollment next year of 837, as compared to an eighth grade signup of 564. Over the long term, we can thus expect great growth as this increased number of youngsters attain higher grades as they grow older. Currently, we have 719 youngsters in first grades and 457 in eighth grades."

School officials have pointed out that for each 100 new elementary pupils in classes, the district must provide andother three teachers at a minimum, three classrooms in which to teach pupils, and all the materials and services which make up an educational program.

Campbell Stamp Upsets Herb Raymond To Tie for First Place in League

Campbell Stamp, behind the stellar pitching of Dave Buck, who has yet to lose a game, went into a tie for the Campbell Little League lead last week. The Stampers' defeat of Herb Raymond's squad 5-3 featured last week's play on the Little League field at Rosemary School.

Herb Raymond and the Stampers have each lost one game in league play. The crucial contest was played last Friday. Buck allowed only three hits and won his own ball game when he drove in the winning runs in the fifth inning with a triple. Ronnie Speno, Stamper second sacker, was handy with the stick, slamming out three hits in the contest.

Getting the hits for Herb Raymond were Johnny Zintz, third baseman, John Martinez, catcher and Howard Allen, center-fielder. The Stampers had two errors chalked up against them while Raymond's team played errorless ball. The Stampers banged out a total of eight hits.

Campbell Stamp shut out the Campbell Lumber outfit on Monday of the week by a 3-0 count, this time with Frank Testa on the mound. The Stamp hurlers, becoming shut-out conscious with a record of three shutouts in four games played. The Lumbermen could only get three hits off Testa with Manuel Puma, Danny Perry and Mike Overhulse, being the lucky ones.

Randy Sutton and Testa led the Stampers at the plate. Each collected three hits. One of Testa's hits went for two bases. Altogether the Stampers gathered 11 hits during the afternoon.

The Lumbermen lost on Thursday to Western Gravel by a 9-3 score. Although Campbell Lumber outhit the Gravelmen, the Western Gravel capitalized on walks and errors and their three hits to score seven runs in two innings. Big hitter for the Gravelers was Joe Newlans, who pounded out two singles.

Mike Overhulse, Lumberman pitcher, slammed the only homer of the game when he poled one ball over the fence in the second inning with nobody on.

In the other game of the week played on Tuesday, Herb Raymond took the count of Western Gravel 12-3. The blow that broke the Western Gravel's back came in the fourth inning when John Martinez slammed out a two run home-run. The wallop by Martinez, his second four-bagger in two games, broke a 3-3 tie.

John Zintz got credit for the win, coming into the game in the second inning and only allowing one hit in the five stanzas he worked. Jerry Krug led his Western Gravel team-mates at the plate with two singles.

Methodist Men Win

Mac's Market Grabs Onto First Place In Cambrian Little League Battle

By virtue of winning two games during the week Mac's Market was perched in undisputed first place of the Cambrian Little League as of last Saturday night. The Marketmen shut out Robins 6-0 on Saturday afternoon and turned back the Methodist Men 9-5 on Wednesday.

But the Methodist Men took the plaudits of the week when after losing four straight games in league play they turned on No. Cal Construction on Saturday in a weird, lengthy contest. The final score was 15-11 but that does not tell the real story.

The Methodist Men, under the management of newly appointed Sergeant John Morgan of Campbell Police Department, broke into the win column despite the efforts of Manager Fred Remer of NoCal who used four hurlers who gave up a total of 24 walks in the battle.

The Methodists only got two two hits in the contest but the churchmen scored ten runs in the third inning on a bingle by Ronnie Pointer, along with ten walks, an error and a hit batsman.

The NoCalers displayed plenty of hitting power in the second inning when they crossed the plate eight times on seven base hits with Gary Stambaugh pacing his teammates with a hefty homer over the barrier in deep left center. He also banged out two singles.

The Methodist Men, however, weren't so lucky in their Wednesday battle with Mac's Market The marketmen came in on the long end of the 9-5 score with Ted Perry on the mound. Perry only allowed three hits. Allen Kidwell, Howard Hill, and Billy Teichner of the church squad got the lone hits allawed by the market pitcher.

The heavy bats of Bill Holland, Al Brasile and Perry plus the 60-pound dynamiter Roger Schwab just proved too much for churchmen, although Bill Teichner pitched creditable ball, scattering nine hits.

In the Mac's Market-Robins game which proved to be the crucial battle of the week, Al Brasile silenced the bats of the Robins on Saturday by twirling two-hit ball in the 6-0 shut-out. Brasile also had a perfect day at the plate with three for three. Scrappy first sacker, Dean Bowman laced into one of Steve Wilson's fast balls for a four-bagger with the ball caroming off the top of the fence into the orchard. It was Bowman's first homer in league play.

Eddie Sauer, the Robins' stellar catcher, played terrific ball behind the plate plus blasting a singing double in the fourth to crush any hopes Brasile might have had for a no-hitter.

In the other game of the week played on Thursday, the Robins won from No-Calers in a close 3-1 contest. Manager Don Witzel of the Robins allowed his pitcher Spencer Caulde to go the whole route and Spencer was touched for four lone hits. Ronnie Willet, No-Cal pitcher did right well also on the mound until the birds broke loose in the third to score three runs on successive singles by Larry Witzel. Eddie Sauer, John Margherita followed by a bases cleaning double by Steve Wilson. Bill Kellogg led the losers at the plate with a triple and a single in two trips. Mel Wickliffe, one of the No-Cal's players, will be out of the line-up for three weeks because of a wrenched knee suffered in competition.

ALVISO HOLDS AUTO RACES ON SATURDAY

Hardtop auto racing at Alviso Speedawy, just north of San Jose, will be held every Saturday night, beginning this week, under auspices of Western Auto Racing Inc. Time trials begin at 7:15, first race event at 8:15.

Bill Tester, president of W. A. R., said the change from Friday to Saturday night was requested by many fans who protested the week-day programs because of work on Saturdays.

Feature of the first regular Saturday night program will be a stock car "demolition dash" in which seven older cars will race ten laps, but can complete no lap until hitting another car. Drivers and fans have cheered this modification of the old "destruction derby" because of the actual racing competition which is added.

"Rambling Ray" Raineri, former California hardtop race champ, has returned to action at Alviso Speedway with the same blue Dodge which won him his honors.

Top drivers of the Western Auto Racing circuit include George Rogge, Palo Alto.

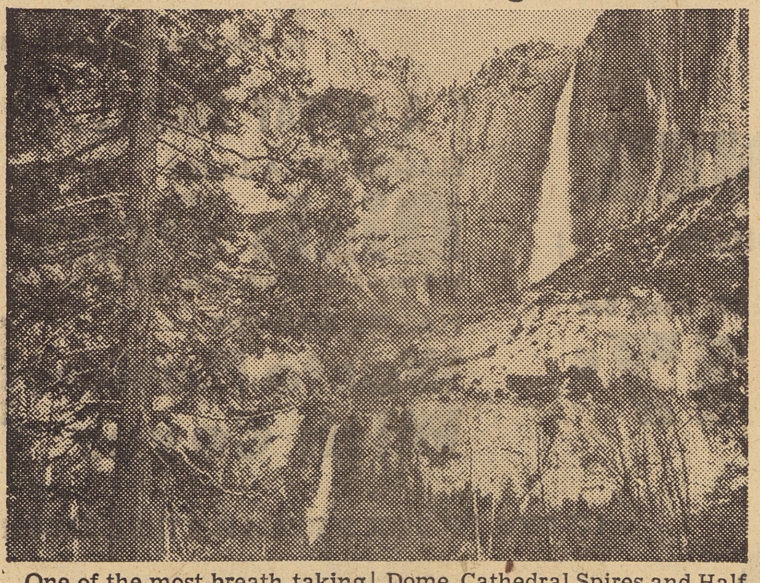
Travel Tips

Famous Yosemite Valley To Draw Thousands of Vacationing Westerners



One of the most breath-taking scenic wonderlands in all America is Yosemite National Park. And as a vacation spot it is perfect. Yosemite Valley itself, 4000 feet above sea level, covers just seven square miles, so it's compact enough for the "one-day" traveler. Yet the entire park, crested by the snowy peaks of the spectacular Sierra Nevada Mountains and dotted with plenty of fish-filled lakes, covers 1189 miles.

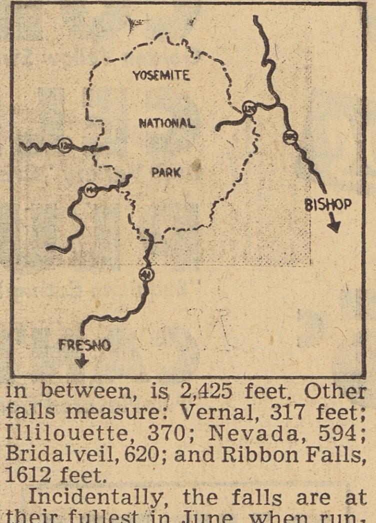
There are four major routes to Yosemite—California State Highway 120 east from Stockton-Modesto, or into the east entrance of the park on 120; State Highway 140 northeast from Merced; and State Highway 41 north from Fresno.

Although vacation accommodations in Yosemite are good, they're very popular, so you should make plans well ahead of your trip.

One way to visit the famous valley is growing more popular each year—vacation trailer travel. According to the Trailer Coach Association, the number of Western families who will vacation in trailers this year will set an all-time record. There are trailer parks at each entrance to Yosemite, and thousands of other scenic "parking places" en route to the valley.

Naturally, sight-seeing will take much of your time, whether you're visiting the park for the first or 15th times. Waterfalls, domes and pinnacles are a large part of the park's celebrated scenery. Such "rocks" as El Capitan, Three Brothers, North Dome, Cathedral Spires and Half Dome are among the more renowned.

Yosemite is resplendent with waterfalls. The total drop of Yosemite Falls, counting the upper and lower falls and cascades in between, is 2,425 feet. Other falls measure: Vernal, 317 feet; Illilouette, 370; Nevada, 594; Bridalveil, 620; and Ribbon Falls, 1612 feet.



Incidentally, the falls are at their fullest in June, when runoff from the melted snows is greatest. The early summer volume of water which pours over these points is tremendous. The tremor from Yosemite Falls at times can be heard half a mile away.

Whether you're going fishing in the High Sierras, or riding along the Valley floor—there are 311 miles of highway and 756 miles of trails in the park—be sure to take warm clothing with you. The nighttime air often is very chilly, even in summer.

Patricia Powell Weds Norman Porter In Wayside Chapel Rites on Sunday

Wayside Chapel on the Santa Cruz Highway was the setting last Sunday for the evening wedding of Miss Patricia Lea Powell and Norman Porter. Rev. Morgan C. Webb officiated at the rites. Mrs. Webb, the minister's wife, played carillon bells at the ceremony.

For her wedding, Miss Powell chose a waltz length nylon dotted Swiss gown, fashioned with long sleeves, scoop neckline and bouffant skirt.. A de-lustered satin cummerbund circled her waist. Her fingertip veil descended from a seed pearl-covered cap.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of Stephanotis and forget-me-nots with a Bible, a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was centered with a corsage made up of Stephanotis. In her Bible, she carried a lace-trimmed chiffon handkerchief, which was worn by her mother at her own wedding.

Mrs. John Hoover, matron of honor, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a waltz-length gown of yellow satin with an overskirt of white dotted swiss. Her chignon coiffure was circled with daisies and she carried a bouquet of yellow and white marguerites.

Her mother, Mrs. William Powell, wore a light blue silk shantung sheath dress for the ceremony. She wore a matching jacket, navy shoes and white accessories. Her corsage was a Vanda orchid.

Don Porter was his brother's best man and two other brothers, Robert and William, were ushers.

Mrs. Raymond Mathis, mother of the groom, wore a pink sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories. A Vanda orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

White gladioli, white stock and Shasta daisies decorated the Powell living room of their Carlyn Ave. home, the setting for the reception which followed, attended by more than 60 friends and relatives of the couple. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells and surrounded by candles in silver holders, and white satin ribbon entwined with daisies.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Powell of 136 Carlyn Ave., Campbell, is a Campbell Union High School graduate. She graduated from San Jose State College last January, and has been teaching at Hamilton School since that time. She also attended the University of Hawaii last summer.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Carmel and other points along the coast. For her going away trip, the new Mrs. Porter wore a black sheath dress with biege duster and beige accessories. Her stephanotis corsage from her wedding bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

The couple will fly to Hawaii on July 5, where they will make their home for five months, after which the groom will have completed his service with the U. S. Navy, when they plan to return to the States.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Lawn web worms need not be a lawn problem. Your nurseryman can suggest an effective control.

2. Plant fragrance in your garden. Here are a few shrubs with delightful fragrance. Bouvardia, Star Jasmine, Night blooming Jasmine, Meyer Lemon and Osmanthus fragrans.

3. These summer flowering shrubs can be planted now. Hydrangea Pleroma, Fuchsias, Hibiscus and Escallonia.

4. Cut down the old flowering stalks on Delphinium. The plants will bloom again in the fall.

5. The warm weather bedding plants such as Petunias, Marigolds, Zinnias and Asters do particularly well when planted now.

Pre-Vacation Garden Care

Got those travel folders out yet? Certainly by now you and each member of your family has announced his idea for the family vacation. Perhaps you've already made reservations and have begun to pack. If so, now's the time to prepare your garden for the weeks it will spend alone and without your care. You may have a good neighbor or regular gardener who will keep up with the garden chores but if you don't there are several pre-vacation measures you can take that will tide your garden over the weeks of your vacation.

Begin your preparations with the lawn. Mow it a day or two before you leave and lay down a light top dressing of peat moss, followed by thorough soaking. The peat moss ill hold the moisture, insultaing e roots from drying air. Grass ppings, too, make a natural lch and conserve moisture. If y have someone to cut the grass ile you're away tell him to leave th clippings on the lawn.

n't fertilize your lawn before you leave, cautions the California Association of Nurserymen, because the grass will shoot up when fed and the fertilizer plus your absence will mean a tough mowing job when you return. Lay down a balanced fertilizer after you've returned from your vacation.

Your favorite Rose shrubs should have special" attention too. Clip off dead blooms and spray or dust with a combination spray for mildew and aphis. Pile up the soil in ridges around the Rose beds and water well. Then spread a heaping trowelful of a balanced fertilizer at the base of each plant and soak again.

Flower beds will still be blooming gaily when you return if you have given them a dressing of compost or humus. First, though, cultivate the soil around the plants and water generously before spreading the humus.

Fruit, shade, flowering trees and shrubs will remain in good condition while you're gone if you shape basins around them and soak slowly. After watering fill the basins with grass clippings or compost. Shallow rooted Azaleas, Camellias, Rhodendrons and Fuchsias can be kept happy with a heavy mulch of sopping wet peat moss.

When you've done these pre-vacation garden chores you can be fairly sure you'll return from your vacation, rested, relaxed, and cheered by the sight of a garden and lawn in good condition.

Plants in Tubs for Patio

Rather than maintain a narrow strip of garden around the patio or near the terrace or sun deck, many California gardeners are doing their gardening in these areas in tubs.

Tub gardening can include all types of plants. The larger tubs can easily accommodate small trees or large shrubs while the smaller size containers make a natural home for perennials or flowering shrubs.

The advantage of tub gardening are several: plants in tubs can be moved around to provide shade where it's needed or to change the patio scene. Tub plants can be moved under protection if bad weather comes. And too, gardening in tubs on the patio, terrace or sun deck is much neater than working in a limited strip of soil —there's no wash-over from the tubs onto the pavement as there is from the ground.

The California Association of Nurserymen sugget the following small trees for beautiful tub plantings: Japanese Maple (Acer palmatum), Flowering Peach or Apricot (Prunus persica and Prunus mume). Some smaller shrubs that make fine tub subjects are Azaleas, Hydrangeas and Camellias. Nandina domestica, called Heavenly Bamboo, is a beautiful tub planting. In all these plantings try low-growing flowers or ground covers in the tubs as carpets around the trees and shrubs. Cyclamen, though not a shrub is also an excellent tub subject.

Gardening in tubs is quite easy but there are a few special considerations to make. For instance, you must be sure drainage is excellent; ;you must provide enough moisture and fertilizer for the plant has only you to depend on for water and food. In most cases you will want to prune back your shrubs to keep them under control and when you are planting, your nurseryman may suggest you prune the roots also in order to keep the plants the appropriate size for the tub containers.

Floribunda Roses

If Roses spell lots of gardening care and coddling to you then you haven't met the Rose that is certain to please you with its easy care and abundant blooms. It's the Floribunda Rose, and if you haven't become acquainted with it, you should.

Your local nurseryman will have many of the popular Floribunda varieties available. Top on the list is this year's sole All American Rose Selection winner, Circus, which blooms in ever-changing shades of red, yellow, orange, pink and buff. The Wildfire Floribunda is just what its name implies: dazzling scarlet blooms that burst out in wide-flaring single blossoms. Also on the brilliantly colored side is Redcap, with blooms in bright, glowing crimson. Three more favorite Floribundas, Frolic, China Doll and Pinkie, bloom in shades of pink. Always popular selections also are former All American Award winners Jiminy Cricket and Lilibet.

The Floribunda can be planted in so many ways you'll be astounded. It makes a beautiful, thick, low-growing hedge or beautifies a utilitarian fence. Use several plants of one variety for solid bands of color along driveways or paths or in front of shrubbery. The Floribunda combines well in the perennial border garden too. Plant it to match or to contrast with your perennial flowers. Floribundas in containers enable you to enjoy their beauty and fragrance close-at-hand.

And the long blooming period of Floribundas will really please you —from Spring to Fall great masses of flowers are borne on these plants.

The Palace of Machinery at the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 was said to be the largest structure of its kind ever constructed under one roof.

Now That School Is Out . . .

"Keep Your Eye on Our Small Fry," Says County Safety Council Head

"Keep your eye on our small fry".

This warning was issued to all motorists this week in connection with the closing of school throughout the county, by Edwin C. Nelson, president of the Santa Clara County Safety Council.

"The traffic patterns of school children which have been so well established throughout the year will suddenly become non-existent when school closes. There will be no school patrols or crossing guards at major crossings and children will be crossing streets—everywhere"—Nelson said.

"In spite of the teachings at the schools, and by parents, children are impulsive and forget quickly."

Each year far too many children are killed in traffic accidents and the tragic part of it is that most of these deaths could be prevented.

"Careful driving practices and consistent alertness are the drivers best safeguards," Nelson stated. "He must learn to expect the unexpected from children and act quickly to save a heedless youngster from injury or even death."

Nelson suggested the following rules for motorists to help protect the youngsters:

1. Keep a sharp lookout for children at all times but especially in residential areas, near playgrounds and other places where children gather.

2. Be particularly alert near playgrounds and drive at a speed slow enough to be able to stop quickly in the event of an emergency. Remember at 20 miles per hour it requires 43 feet to stop.

3. Don't be juvenile yourself and try to compete with bike riders. Give them a brake.

4. Watch for children around ice cream vendor's wagons.

5. Watch for a rolling ball or running dog—usually there's a child close by—
